Madison teachers, board approve pact

The Madison Board of Education on Thursday night approved a new one-year agreement under which 103 teachers will receive raises. The basic schedule was increased $350 yearly to an $8,450-$13,950 range. Bachelor degree teachers will receive $8,450 to $12,550 according to years of teaching experience, ranging from none to ten years of experience. Faculty members with master degrees will be paid $9,150 to $13,250, and teachers with an additional 20 credit hours of university study will be paid $9,850 to $13,950.

These already in the district will receive not only the $350 increase in the salary schedule but the year-to-year increment, in most cases $450. Another $60 yearly raise was authorized in the form of increased School District contributions to medical-hospital insurance costs. Another raise of up to $180 was approved for unused earned absences. The one-year pact retroactive to the start of the 1973-74 school year was the product of negotiations with American Federation of Teachers Local 763. The terms have been accepted by the teachers.

Negotiations are continuing with Building Service Employees Local 98 for custodians. Talks also are planned with clerks and cooks, Supt. John L. Palchiff said.

Assistant Supt. Wade James reported to the board that a final educational plan, known as A-160, has been sent to the Office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for evaluation and approval.

Covering all goals of the school system, the plan includes an application being prepared under a capital assistance program.

If it qualifies on the basis of needed facilities and insufficient tax base, Madison could receive 70 per cent of construction costs from the federal government, it was explained.

Piasa Fuel Co. of Alton is continuing to provide fuel oil to the school system but the price for December rose from 18.9 to 25.9 cents a gallon, the board was told.

Emmitt Timmons was designated an assistant baseball coach of Madison High School.

Boy Scout Troop 45 was allowed to continue meeting at Dunbar School, as it has done for 36 years.

The board allowed November salaries of $215,442 and approved bills of $41,157 for education, $20,653 bonds and interest and $5,688 maintenance of buildings and grounds.

Palchiff said he will meet in January with a Student Relations Biralcal Committee, which later is to meet with the board.

The superintendent said that "everyone is extremely happy" with the work of the student committee and a similar committee of adults. "These committees are playing a vital role in helping the educational processes continue at a high level," he added.

Palchiff said a Madison ministerial advisory committee also is functioning well. "They are aiding the cause of better understanding," he commented.

Cooperation key to easing energy shortage—Chamber

An analysis of the energy crisis today by Chester L. Baker, president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, concluded that the community and the United States "can live with it—provided everyone is unselfishly cooperative."

"Don't waste a drop anywhere, and follow closely the guidelines laid down by the administration," Baker urged. "Failure to do this could result in national disaster."

Stressing that the fuel problem is real, the top officer of the local Chamber of Commerce cited "closed schools and plants in Ohio last winter, closed gasoline stations in Denver last summer and darkened cities in the Northeast in the late 1960s."

"Many communities may face this during this winter," Baker said. "Since Pres. Nixon's major energy address in early November, newspapers, radio and television have dwelled on the energy crisis. Still some individuals think it is a ploy of the oil industry to raise prices, get approval to build the Alaska pipeline, or whatever."

Baker continued, "Some congressmen suggest this is a managed crisis that will terminate as soon as the energy industry gets what it wants. But in most cases these are 'straw men' which they can later tear apart. Such comments are counter-productive because they divert attention from the seriousness of our present situation."

The House rejected a Senate-passed emergency energy bill

"How serious is it? More serious than people have been led to believe," he told the Press-Record.

"Beginning in the first quarter of 1974, the full impact of the Arab oil cut will be felt. The final tanker of Mideast oil reaches Louisiana in November. Once this crude oil is refined and products are placed on the market, the real shortage begins."

"Estimates of the probable petroleum short-fall are from 17 to 25 per cent. The severest of the winter weather will control the percentage."

"The shortage of gasoline is likely to exceed the 17-25 per cent range for overall petroleum."

"An adverse winter would tend to tell, along with refining production emphasis on middle distillates at the expense of gasoline."

"General consumption of the gasoline left after police, firemen, etc., get their allocation could be as much as 50 per cent short of the demand."

Noting that the Chamber of Commerce has sought to answer, "How did we get there?" Baker related:

"Between 1956 and 1970, exploratory well drilling declined 40 per cent. Producing wells have declined steadily since the early 1960s."

"In 1968, for the first time, reserves declined; production exceeded new discoveries."

Baker added that "coal, once the principal fossil fuel energy source, has lost many of its markets to oil and natural gas."

"Nuclear power—a bright promise in the early 1960s—failed to fulfill that promise. There was environmental

Shoppers battle cold, ice, fog, rain, traffic

"Chestnuts roasting on an open fire... Jack Frost nipping at your nose..." Quad-Cityans encountered a near-record combination of snow and cold temperature Wednesday and Thursday and there is still some snow cover despite melting which began Saturday. Rain was heavy yesterday and today.

Driving remained difficult, but shoppers who had been blocked by the weather Wednesday and Thursday ignored the foot-deep snow Friday and jammed shopping centers and downtown areas.

Traffic became congested and slowed to a crawl or slower on major streets. Cars that had stalled and were abandoned added to the problem. Clearing of driveways and parking lots became a massive chore. Aware that many people had not yet completed their pre-Christmas shopping, a number of stores scheduled longer-than-normal hours Saturday and yesterday.

Fog throughout the day Sunday halted flights at Lambert Airport and led to a number of highway traffic collisions.

At the Interstate 70 exit to Route 203 south of here yesterday, no injuries occurred but two buses, a truck and seven autos were damaged in a series of crashes blamed on fog and ice. One of the buses contained 42 young people from the Jewish Community Center Association in St. Louis who had intended to go skiing in Wisconsin but cancelled the trip.

Good deeds were numerous throughout the Quad-City area late last week as both friends and strangers paused to aid motorists caught in snowdrifts. The snow created scenes of beauty in parks and elsewhere but also caused the collapse of awnings, canopies and carports at local residences and buildings.

Hampered by the fact that freezing rain had formed a coating of ice Tuesday night prior to the early Wednesday start of the snow, state, county, township and city road crews fell behind in their efforts to clear pavements.

The temperature fell to six degrees below zero early Friday morning and to four degrees above on Saturday morning but remained above freezing all last night.

The storm has delayed opening of a 22-mile section of Interstate 64 east of New Baden until Friday of this week.

Snow tires, chains, shovels, deicers and rock salt supplies sold briskly late last week, as did sleds, skates and hockey equipment.

Despite adverse conditions, there was good attendance at many Quad-City churches yesterday for Christmas-related services.

Gasoline service station closings were the rule Sunday and this also will be the case tomorrow, Christmas Day. Many also remained closed today.

Mail deliveries to Quad-City and other post offices were delayed due to snow-related car skidded into Hoskins' vehicle, trapping Hoskins between the cars.

Hoskins was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was admitted with injuries to his legs, hips and chest. X-rays of his skull, spine, pelvis, legs and chest were taken. He was in satisfactory condition today.

Pinned between cars

John L. Hoskins, 22, of 2300 Nameoki Road, Lot 1, was seriously injured when he was pinned between two cars at 4 a.m. Friday on Route 203 (Nameoki Road) about one-fourth mile north of Maryville Road. His condition during the weekend was listed as poor.

Hoskins ran out of gasoline and he stopped it along the highway. He was using a flashlight to direct traffic around the stopped vehicle when the auto of Raymond Wade, Junction City, Kan., approached.

Wade said he did not see any lights on the car and did not see it or the flashlight until it was too late to avoid an accident. He applied the brakes, but his car skidded into Hoskins' vehicle, trapping Hoskins between the cars.

Hoskins was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was admitted with injuries to his legs, hips and chest. X-rays of his skull, spine, pelvis, legs and chest were taken. He was in satisfactory condition today.

President cites school savings

The Granite City School Board's 6-1 decision last week to grant Tully A. Heubner from director of buildings and grounds to director of business affairs is expected to achieve economies for the school system through a redefining of duties.

This was reported Friday by Donald Stucke, board president, in defending the action. Board Member Norman Hall had said there should have been careful scrutiny of other applicants as well as of the one selected.

Comments Friday by President Stucke were as follows:

"It is not my intent to have a journalistic dispute with Norman Hall regarding his reasoning for casting a dissenting vote in the appointment of Tully Heubner to the position of director of business affairs."

"The position was advertised both locally and in the surrounding states, and the response was very good. We had capable applicants from several areas, some quite distant. Mr. Heubner was the only applicant from within our system."

"Each board member received copies of the resumes of every applicant. After reviewing the resumes, the entire board was in agreement to select Mr. Heubner from director of buildings and grounds to director of business affairs. Mr. Heubner has an excellent background in accounting and was familiar with the school system and personnel."

"He had on numerous occasions assisted the comptroller in budgeting, processing bids and performing other accounting duties."

"We thus felt that, considering all these things, he also agreed 100 per cent that—since we had a known quantity in Mr. Heubner—it would be a waste of taxpayers' money to call in other applicants and pay their travel costs."

"Mr. Hall agreed to this, but for some reason changed his mind at last meeting."

"We have an added advantage of having Mr. Heubner to use both in his new position and in his old position."

"With our new construction program completed, it may also be possible to reconstruct our personnel structure and distribute the workload to the extent that the position of director of buildings and grounds may not have to be filled."

"This would save the district several thousand dollars per year."

"With all this in mind, I hardly think the board members voting for the appointment acted unwisely or—as was implied by Mr. Hall—acted without considering the best interests of Mr. Heubner, our school system and the taxpayers." Stucke concluded.

Lights drive passes goal

Thanks to the generosity of Quad-Cityans and the scores of volunteers working hard and cheerfully for the Salvation Army, Christmas Day will be a happier, brighter day for more than 500 families who previously faced the prospect of a bleak Yuletide.

Every colored bulb on the Salvation Army's "Tree of Lights" today is glowing with a special brilliance, signifying that the drive total has been reached.

Contributions stand at $10,900 and "we can use every penny of it," Captain and Mrs. Ronald J. Kerley, Salvation Army officers-in-charge, said this morning.

Ralph Astorian, the 1973 campaign chairman, said a concentrated effort by local Shriners, who were out in force Saturday at shopping areas, pushed donations over the goal.

Shriners collected a total of $1,495 from passersby at the Salvation Army red kettle sites.

In addition to 500 Christmas food baskets distributed, about 3,000 new and good used toys were selected by parents at the Salvation Army's "Toy Shop," Mrs. Kerley said.

A total of 118 families, many more than one child, also took part in another important phase of the Salvation Army's holiday service program—the Cloth-A-Child project.

Mrs. Kerley explained this year the names of children in need were referred to the Salvation Army by officials of the three local school districts.

Parents were contacted for information concerning the child's most urgent need, whether a coat, shoes or other garment. Special credit slips then were issued the parents to a specific store where the item could be obtained, the officer said.

Nearly 80 families will receive food baskets today due to inclement weather Friday when some recipients were unable to find transportation to the distribution center, Captain Kerley said.

Carbon monoxide hazard in most indoor heating

Switching to auxiliary fuels in the energy crisis can be a real gas.

Carbon monoxide. Families stoking up the old fireplace with coal and charcoal are taking serious chances with health and safety, unless they first take some precautions, according to the Division of General Sanitation in the Illinois Public Health Department.

Symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning, unfortunately, can be mistaken for the onset of respiratory diseases which are common in this season, reports Chris Wiant of the division.

The U. S. Public Health Service has reported that approximately 1,500 people die from exposure to carbon monoxide gas yearly, with 70 per cent of these fatalities occurring in the home.

Symptoms, taken from least to most serious, include slight headache; throbbing temples; severe headache; nausea, vomiting and dim vision; severe headache, weakness, dizziness and collapse; coma and convulsions; depressed heart action and respiration possibly followed by death; and respiration failure and death.

Since the gas is odorless, and the symptoms can be mistaken for something else in the early stages, there is a great danger that the victim may stay too long indoors and be overcome before he can escape, Wiant said.

Charcoal poses such a threat of carbon monoxide poisoning that it must carry a printed warning on the package that it should be used only outdoors or under certain conditions.

Coal is nearly as dangerous when ventilation is inadequate.

and the department warns strongly against fueling a fireplace with coal.

Even in homes without fireplaces, danger of carbon monoxide poisoning exists, since flu leaks may develop, or chimneys vents may become clogged with leaves or birds' nests during the summer.

A furnace and its venting system should be checked by a professional each fall before heating is resumed, he said.

Fireplaces burning wood pose less of a threat. But since wood contains carbon, it also emits carbon monoxide when burned, and consequently the user should be alert to the chance of danger.

On first sign of symptoms, Wiant said, the victim should immediately attempt to put out the fire or shield it so further emission of gas cannot occur. Then he should get outside.

If symptoms indicate serious exposure, the hospital emergency room is recommended. There, tests will show the blood level of carbon monoxide, and whether medical treatment is necessary.

If all members of a family simultaneously begin complaining of headaches, light-headedness or nausea, it may well be a warning of carbon monoxide poisoning, Wiant said.

If the victim, going outside, finds he feels normal again after a period in the fresh air, and then suffers a recurrence of his complaint when he returns home, it is a pretty good indication the problem is not internal, but external, and corrective measures should be taken.

Yule gift—fewer driving tests

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, plans to take administrative action to eliminate unnecessary road tests for experienced drivers with good records.

Effective Jan. 1, the secretary's office will drop the "random road test on renewal" that has been operating for four years.

The road test also will be dropped for out-of-state drivers who have valid licenses from another state.

"At least 150,000 unnecessary road tests a year will be cut out," said Howlett. "Our experience has found no evidence that the unnecessary testing has reduced traffic accidents or traffic fatalities."

"From now on, we will test only those who should be required to prove they can drive safely. We won't bother those who already have proved it."

Road tests will continue to be required for the following applicants for driver's licenses:

1. New drivers seeking a license for the first time.
2. Drivers who have had their licenses revoked for any reason, such as drunken driving, reckless driving or habitual offenses.
3. Drivers who have been cited for examination by the secretary's office. These include drivers with questionable ability or drivers whose families have asked that their driving privilege be taken away.
4. Drivers who wish to upgrade their class of driver's license, such as a licensed passenger car driver who wants a license to drive a truck or bus.
5. Drivers who have had their licenses lapse for a year or longer.
6. Drivers 69 years of age or older who apply for renewal of an expiring license. (Re-examination every three years of drivers 69 or over is required by Illinois statute.)

In 1969, the secretary of state announced a new policy under which drivers who come up for license renewal every three years are selected at random, by a computer, for retesting.

Ernest Hellmich, 64, dies

Ernest Hellmich, 64, of 538 St. Louis Road, Collinsville, a brother of two Granite City residents, died at 8:30 a.m. Thursday at his home. There will be an inquest to determine the cause of death.

He had been trying to attach snow chains to the tires of his auto and was overcome by exhaust fumes.

A lifelong resident of Collinsville, Mr. Hellmich owned and operated a trucking service. He was a member of Holy Cross Lutheran Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Florence Hellmich; one son, Ernest K. Hellmich of Collinsville; a daughter, Mrs. Dale (Cheryl) Van DeSteg of Houston, Tex.; one brother, Louis Hellmich of Collinsville; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Vief of Collinsville, Mrs. Chester (Freda) Prach of Williamsville, Mo., and Mrs. Hubert (Viola) Buente and Mrs. Wayne (Leona) Clark, both of Granite City.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, with burial in the Lutheran Cemetery.

Ask the Governor

Q. The Illinois Teachers Retirement Fund is being funded with approximately 28 percent, while other retirement funds are being funded at around 75 percent, specifically legislators and judges. In 1972 you pledged to help amortize this gap, and yet you recently vetoed three bills which would have helped to achieve this. Why did you veto the three bills and what would be your position on this same issue in 1974?

Watska.

A. I vetoed those bills because quite simply we couldn't afford them and I think you and every other teacher and every citizen must know that. The price tag on those bills was something like $300 million. There's absolutely no way that this state could afford to put $300 million into these retirement funds. To fully fund them all at once, as some people argue, would cost the state $4 billion, and would require a tax increase and I'm not about to do that.

Anyone who thinks a teacher with his retirement pay is in jeopardy is kidding himself. It's a myth. There is no problem with respect to the teachers' retirement fund.

However, I have asked that an expert study be conducted to work out a plan to get up a higher level of state funding that can be carried out over a period of years.

Q. I'm president of the Troquois Valley Association, and I'd like to thank you publicly, as I did privately, for signing the bill to regulate waste water treatment and the return of authority to our local area for what happens to our land. What assurance do we have that new legislation will not be signed by you in another year which will negate the elements of this bill?

Watska.

A. There won't be any new legislation signed by me which would permit the dumping of sludge, sewage or whatever in a county in this state without the approval of the elected officials of that county. The bill to which you refer creates a 15-member advisory committee to which programs for waste water land treatment sites or a digested sludge utilization site must be submitted for comments and regulations. Due to this bill, counties have the power to issue, suspend or revoke certificates authorizing waste water treatment sites.

I believe in home rule. I believe that the people of a county, the people of a city should have the right to decide how they want to live and what they want to do. And I don't think they want people several hundred miles away who don't live in their county deciding things for them. As long as I am governor of this state, that is the principle I will follow. I can't guarantee what other governors may or may not do in the future, but I can guarantee what Dan Walker will do and he will do exactly that. I compliment your association for being the driving force that brought this good legislation about.

Cooperation

overenthusiasm in areas ranging from off-shore leasing to the Alaska pipeline to power plant siting to air pollution to surface mining.

"There was a lack of coordinated energy policies. Also contributing were artificially low natural gas prices, and our insatiable appetite for energy."

"These trends would have begun to produce an energy crunch around 1976, but the timetable was accelerated when the Middle East war occurred."

"Why didn't they warn us?"

"Some people did. Leaders in energy industries have warned us for several years about an energy crunch. Now it's a crisis."

"Sen. Jennings Randolph in July 1970 said we would face an energy crisis for tomorrow and many more tomorrows, with not enough to serve industry and homes in America."

"The Wall Street Journal in October 1970 said the U.S. was moving into serious energy problems. The national Chamber admits it did not foresee the Arab oil cutoff, but who did?"

"The Chamber did, however, begin in 1970 to alert its members. Pres. Jimmy Carter Shumway said in December 1970 that we would face an energy shortage that would seriously disrupt our economy and threaten our national security."

"In June 1971, Nation's Business featured a cover story on the upcoming energy crisis. The national Chamber board later that year adopted an energy policy. In 1972, it recommended a 23-point program to solve the growing energy problems."

"Until 1973, the national Chamber's energy staff focused attention on the interplay between the Clean Air Act and our energy supply situation," Baker related.

"In testimony to Congressional committees, in a brief to the Supreme Court, in radio and TV editorials and in regional meetings, the adverse impact of the Clean Air Act on domestic supplies of coal and oil was stressed.

"Despite all this, it obviously was insufficient. We did not get across the urgency of the growing energy problem."

"Why didn't political leaders recognize it?"

"When a serious problem develops over a long period of time—it's difficult. There is more concern with short-term problems to satisfy the electorate, and we had enough of those to keep everybody in Congress busy."

The environmental movement exerted great pressure on politicians directly or indirectly.

"During 1968-1971, the general public was convinced we had to stop all action which might change the environment—or the world was doomed."

"Public attitude influenced decisions of Congress, the courts, media and vice versa. It was very difficult to speak out for fuel resource development—particularly domestic."

"Even the Alaska pipeline was delayed for years—years we could not afford to squander."

"Was there leadership from the White House?"

"Environmental pressures on Congress also were exerted on the administration. More importantly—until recently—the White House did not get moving in a coordinated effort on energy."

"The President's first energy message, April 1973, was pulled together in a short time. With John Erlichman's resignation, the administration effort fragmented—never working as a unit."

"Hopefully, the new energy administrator, William Simon, will regroup and strengthen the White House energy program."

"How vital is the Arab oil supply?"

"Direct crude shipments from the Middle East supplied 8 to 10 per cent of U.S. needs," President Baker related.

"Because of domestic refinery shortages, Middle East crude was refined in Europe and the Caribbean and then the refined products were shipped here."

"Without crude to process, these products no longer are available. The cutoff of oil to Western Europe has diverted other petroleum products refined in these countries—products that had previously been shipped to the U.S."

"This adds up to a reduction in shipments of petroleum products to the U.S. of 20-25 per cent."

"Throughout 1973, refineries have been operating all out, even skipping down-time for maintenance."

"In October, hearings were held on opening Naval petroleum reserves at Elk Hills to produce 100,000 barrels a day."

"Concern was expressed then that no domestic refiner had that amount of unused capacity."

"Now, with the Middle East cutoff, many could absorb it without any trouble."

"What do the Arabs want?"

"It's difficult to answer definitely."

"First, you must separate Saudi Arabia from the more militant oil-poor nations like Egypt and Syria."

"Saudi Arabia takes in more money from oil than it can spend. The excess now approximates $250 million dollars a month."

"They don't need more money. Long range, they want broad-based economic development and stability."

"Short range, they probably want access to Jerusalem, and a solution to the Palestinian problem."

"They feel the best way to achieve these ends is by pressuring Israel's allies."

"Oil shipments to U.S.—less than our demand—will probably be resumed when Saudi Arabia senses some movement toward its goals."

"Baker continued, 'In the long range, even though we can assume self-sufficiency, the crisis will bring a much higher price for energy. It could rise to 4 or 5 times the 1970 prices.'

"For those with preferential utility rate schedules, the price could be greater because the outlook for volume discount rates isn't promising."

"The U.S. is better off than Western Europe because of our vast domestic fossil fuel reserves, and our technological capability to pursue other forms of energy."

"Western Europe and Japan have few domestic energy options; their short-run energy crisis could have serious consequences."

"Losses by commercial airlines, manufacturers and others may be only a first step."

"Refinery production is away from gasoline toward heating oil and diesel fuel, so gasoline will be hardest hit. Likewise, shortages of fertilizers, plastics and synthetic textiles may hit hard."

"Stockmarket declines may be more accurate, albeit an emotional reflection to trouble ahead, than reassuring words from the administration."

"Distasteful as rationing may be to those who emphasize that a free market to allocate fuels on the basis of price is best, its difficulties to believe a free market for gasoline will be permitted."

"Consider that the administration has established mandatory allocation for gasoline, which is rationing, down to the service station level."

"It has taken action to encouage refineries to curtail gasoline production. It has permitted refinery prices for distillate to rise 2 cents per gallon, and ordered a reduction of a penny per gallon on gasoline."

"Combination of these two efforts means production of less gasoline and allocation on a first-come, first-served basis."

"Without some form of rationing, it may lead to extremely inequitable distribution of gasoline to the general consumer."

"Historically, oil industry profits have been lower than the average of all manufacturing industries—about 11 per cent compared to 12+ per cent on net income as a per cent of net worth."

"Now they are selling every gallon of oil and products they can produce at top dollar. No more gas wars—no discount stations."

"Most follow last-in-first-out accounting systems which means in today's short market that old petroleum products on the books for years at low cost are now sold at today's high prices."

"The result — a bulge in current profit margins which probably won't last."

"Oil exportation? Yes, some does exist."

"The two-tier market exists largely because the Cost of Living Council has ignored the worldwide energy shortage and resultant price increases."

"Price constraints by the CLC are aimed at protecting the consumer—but can only result in intensifying the shortage since we must import a large portion of our petroleum supplies," Baker emphasized.

"Oil exports averaged 234,000 barrels per day through the first eight months of this year—but the U.S. is a net importer of petroleum averaging 6,200,000 barrels per day in the same period."

"Some exports represent transfers between U.S. and its neighbors, Canada and Mexico."

"Half of all petroleum exports are lubes, coke, wax and asphalt, not related to energy problems."

"Distillate fuel exports average 6,000 barrels per day—our imports of the distillates are over 60 times that figure."

"Residual fuel exports—high sulfur fuel which cannot be used under existing air pollution regulations—are up only slightly—30,500 vs. 29,400 barrels per day, about one per cent of domestic residual oil consumption."

The accident occurred in dense fog and the taxicab driver, Donald Sutherland, 31, of 2219 Edison Ave., said he was unable to see the stopped car until it was too late to avoid the accident.

Passengers in the car who were injured were Kevin Fowler, 8, and Carol Ann Fowler, 4, both of 1538 Johnson Road. Sutherland and three passengers in the taxicab also were hurt. They were Sharon Valencia, 19, of 2150 Monroe St.; Linda Chism, 16, of 2557 Madison Ave.; and Mrs. Diane Smart, 20, of 2519 Grand Ave.

Only Mrs. Smart required hospital treatment. She was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with bruises to her upper left arm and left leg. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Extra sessions at GC ice rink

Extra sessions for ice skaters during the holiday season are now under way at the Wilson Park rink.

The schedule for the remainder of this week and part of next week follows:

Today (Christmas Eve): 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. only.
Tuesday, Dec. 25: 7 to 10 p.m.

7-hour I-270 traffic delay

Adverse road conditions responsible for a tie-up on Interstate 270 between Routes 203 and 111 Friday took about seven hours to untangle. The cars at one time were backed up more than three miles, troopers said.

Westbound lanes were blocked at 7:50 a.m. Friday after a tractor-trailer truck jackknifed across the roadway. Cars and trucks attempting to miss the stopped truck skidded into the median and into snow on the edge of the road.

Other cars were able to stop on the pavement but faced several hours of waiting while the road was cleared. Some drivers who tired of waiting abandoned their autos on the interstate and walked to nearby restaurants and service stations.

State troopers, attempting to clear the pavement, had to call tow trucks to the scene to remove abandoned cars. A similar tie-up was reported at about the same time on Interstate 70 between Greenville and Route 4.

The snow and ice also continued to snarl traffic on main roads in the Quad-City area. The poor, driving conditions, along with a heavy volume of traffic because of Christmas shopping, made the Nameoki Road area near the major shopping centers nearly impassable Friday afternoon. Downtown areas also were congested.

Auto mishaps and slow moving street department trucks spreading cinders further complicated the traffic problems.

Arrest 3 in credit card theft

Three persons from East St. Louis, Jake Thomas, 46, Patricia Ann Martin, 32, and Gene Guther Turner, 38, face charges of deceptive practices and theft following their arrest at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the J. C. Penny store in East Alton.

TAVERN BURGLARIZED

Three young boys were seen walking through the front door of Buttie's Tavern, 2401 Washington Ave., at 3:10 a.m. Monday and police were called. They found the front door had been pried open and a case of liquor stolen. Also taken was an undetermined amount of change from the cigarette vending machine. An inventory was being taken to determine if anything else was stolen.

At 4:30 p.m. Sunday Nuvart Kachigian 2866 State St. reported her purse stolen from a shopping cart at the Granite City K-Mart. It contained $120 and several credit cards. A wallet belonging to Mrs. Thomas Green, 2513 E. 25th St., containing $22 and credit cards, also was stolen.

The trio, when arrested by East Alton police, had almost $300 worth of merchandise purchased on the stolen cards, authorities said.

THEFT ON MADISON

Items worth $380 were stolen from the home of Richard Wilkenson, 2528 Madison Ave., it was reported at 10:40 a.m. Sunday. Taken were a tape and record player and a television.

Jos. Sedabres dies at home

Joseph George Sedabres Sr., 63, of 2133 Fourteenth St., was found dead in the kitchen of his home at 3 p.m. Saturday by his son-in-law, Charles Wynn. According to the family, he had not been ill. An inquest will be held.

He was born in Sandoval, Ill., and lived here the past 55 years. A member of St. Joseph Catholic Church he worked for Specialized Services for the Handicapped.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Leola L. (Schweinel) Sedabres; four daughters, Mrs. James (Shirley) Swigert, Mrs. Ronald (Betty) Rojas, Mrs. Charles (Leola) Wynn and Mrs. Edward (Barbara) Deach, all of Granite City; one sister, Mrs. Eleanor Allen of Granite City; and one brother, Victor Sedabres of Walshville, Ill.; 17 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

RANSACK CHAPEL

A vandal forced open the doors to the chapel at St. Elizabeth Hospital and ransacked the back of the chapel, it was reported at 2:30 a.m. Friday. Hospital officials did not know if anything had been stolen.

TAKES YULE PRESENTS

A camera and a set of walk-talkies were stolen from the home of Charles Browning, 2514 W. 23rd St., it was reported at 9:55 p.m. Sunday. Several other Christmas presents were opened, but were not stolen.

Some county offices open

Federal and state offices are closed today and will close next Monday, New Year's Eve. Also closed those two days are Circuit Courts and circuit clerk offices.

The Madison County Courthouse closed Wednesday afternoon and remained closed Thursday due to road and weather conditions.

Non-court offices will be open today, Christmas Eve, and also next Monday, the County Board decided at its December meeting last week.

A motion to close by Nameoki Supervisor Louis Whitsell was defeated by a wide margin. A discussion brought out that the county spends $37,600 a day for operating expenses of county departments and that it is facing a budget deficit.

None withdraw in primary

Three-way fights for the Democratic nominations as county clerk and sheriff will remain on the March 19 primary ballot, it was reported today following expiration of the withdrawal period at noon Saturday.

The office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz reported there were no withdrawals in the bids for nomination to four county offices. Two candidates remain in the field for the Democratic nomination as county clerk and two are seeking the nomination as superintendent of the educational service region.

Republican candidates are seeking three county offices without opposition in the primary. There is no GOP candidate for the school superintendent post.

ACCIDENT IN SNOW

Heavyweight pairings pit Ritenour vs. Lincoln, Decatur vs. GCHS South, Pekin vs. McCluer, Bloomington vs. GCHS North, Cahokia vs. Wood River, Belleville East vs. Normandy, Roxana vs. Hazelwood, and Riverview Gardens vs. Jacksonville.

At noon Friday, mat action will continue with the final two rounds beginning at 6 p.m. to decide the championship.

Winners in the first round will be pitted against other match winners, and losers will wrestle in a losers' bracket. The last four remaining in the losers bracket will be paired and wrestle. The two winners then will compete in a round-robin with the sole remaining undefeated wrestler, with the winner the individual champion in that weight class.

Both GCHS South and GCHS North enter the tournament with overwhelming strength in the lower weight classes. South carries its upper weight class advantage with 185 pound John Avestian, and North with heavyweight John McMillon both are undefeated this season.

Four undefeated grapplers in the lower divisions at each school constitute much of their strength. Without losses are: 98 pound—Woody Halbrook, South; 105—Neil Pierson, North; 112—Rudy Pyle, North; Pat MacMillan, South; 119—Phil Shemis, North; 126—Eric Schmitz, North; John Niebur, South and 132—Don Heath, South.

South wrestler Phil Lapinski, who suffered a broken foot earlier in the season, has discarded the cast and may see action in the 119 pound weight class. Last year he earned district and sectional crowns, was fourth in the state, and had the most victories on the team with 87.

Comprising the tentative starters for both Granite City schools in the other weight classes are: 106 pound—Steve

Garland, South; 119—Kevin Page, South; 132—Chester Fetter, North; 138—Bill Carr, North; Dan Heath, South; 145—John Hankins, North; Dave Rushing, South; 155—Rick Morlen, North; Ken Nolen, South; 167—Brian Wilson, South; Dave Hamilos, North; 185—Jim Barker, North, and heavyweight Jerry Patterson, South.

Cage tilts postponed

Snow and cold which lingered on through Friday forced cancellation of many area basketball games, including the GCHS North vs. Triad, GCHS South vs. Belleville East and Venice vs. Waterloo games which were scheduled to be played Friday.

Two regional teams did brave the cold and snow to meet their respective opponents. Belleville Althoff had to go into overtime to beat Christian Brothers College 69-67 and Quincy traveled to Alton only to be dealt a 79-71 defeat by the Redbirds.

With holiday basketball and wrestling tournaments on tap for this week, no regular season varsity action has been scheduled until after the first of the year.

Also finished until 1974 are Granite City Park District basketball, volleyball and wrestling, and the athletic programs of all junior high schools.

Warriors among elite teams in Pontiac cage tournament

Undefeated Bloom High School of Chicago Heights with an 8-0 record, is seeded first in the pairings for the 43rd Annual Pontiac Holiday Basketball Tournament which begins Thursday at Pontiac, Ill.

The top-seeded Trojans, coached by Wes Mason, will open their bid for the 1973 title against Cairo's Pilots at 10:30 a.m. Thursday. Audie Matthews Bloom's 6-3 senior forward currently is averaging nearly 30 points a game.

Defending champion Lockport, a 38-4 winner over Aurora West in last year's title game, returns with a currently undefeated team, 7-0, to defend its title. Lockport will meet Rock Island Allean at 4 p.m.

Bloom's top seeded squad will compete in the upper bracket, as will the Bulldogs of Waukegan, 5-2, and the Warriors of Granite City High School South. South has yet to win a game thus far this season and now has an 0-5 record.

The Warriors and Waukegan will meet at 1 p.m. Thursday in the third game of the 24 game tournament. The Bulldogs boast 6-8 center Jerome Whitehead and South presents 5-10 guard Mike Martinez.

Martinez, South's only returning letterman, tallied only eight points last year against LaSalle-Peru in the Warriors' first round game, which the Warriors lost 70-61.

He then led the local high school in scoring with 24 points in its second game against host school, Pontiac. The Warriors were eliminated from the tournament in that game when Pontiac pulled a 66-67 victory out of the bag in overtime.

Probable starters for this year's Warrior tournament team are Martinez, 6-0 forward

Dale Williams, 6-2 guard Bob Hutchings, 6-4 forward Ken Bertrand and 6-4 center Terry Hollis.

Complementing the five in action will be guards Greg Terrell, Kirk Champion and Tim Dillard, and forwards Tom Schooley, Rick Fancher, Keith Gehling and Dave Naglich.

Also among the upper bracket competitors are Bloomington at 5-2, last year's runnerup Aurora West with 6-2, and Hersey, with a 4-4 record.

Lockport's undefeated Porters will be competing in the lower bracket. A veteran LaSalle-Peru team at 6-1 and New Trier East with 4-2 are rated the top contenders along with Lockport. In the final first round game, Pontiac, now 6-2, will meet Deerfield.

Pontiac and Deerfield both are regarded as lower bracket darkhorses.

Other lower bracket pairings match Ottawa against New Trier East and Cahokia facing LaSalle.

Cahokia is one of three squads added by Tournament Manager Roger Tuttle this year in strengthening the already rugged field of teams.

Ottawa's Pirates, representing the North Central Illinois and Illinois Valley Conference, will be making a first appearance.

Bloomington of the Big 12 Conference, featuring one of the state's outstanding junior guards, Bob Bender, and Cahokia, of the strong Southwestern Conference, are the new teams in the tournament.

The competition will continue at 9 a.m. Friday, and conclude with the championship game at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

MHS, North in Edwardsville cage tourney

The hopes of an Edwardsville Holiday Basketball Tournament crown being brought to the Quad-City area rest squarely on the shoulders of two local squads, the Madison Trojans and Granite City High School North, as the sixth annual event gets underway at 9 a.m. Thursday.

The 16 schools participating this year include three new entries, Glenbard East, Peoria Woodruff and GCHS North. North and Woodruff are in Edwardsville's bracket.

Remaining participants are Bethalto, Madison, Roxana, East St. Louis, Jerseyville, Highland, Elk Grove, Triad, Hillsboro, Wood River, Robinson, Litchfield, and the host school Edwardsville.

Madison, which captured third place consolation honors last year by defeating Bethalto 58-44, will meet the Roxana Shells at 10:30 a.m. Thursday. Roxana was beaten Tuesday night by Bethalto 51-47.

The Shells, now 4-2, are led in scoring by 6-6 center Chris Schroeder who is averaging 16 points a game.

The Trojans have their scoring divided up between six different players, Jon Henke, Ron Glasper, Daryl Franklin, Rudolph Bradley, Chris Stanley, and Carl Campbell, all hitting an average of 12 points an outing.

The highest Madison has finished in the tournament was runner-up in 1980.

The Steelers of North, with a 3-2 record after losing their last game 65-46 to Madison, is paired at 9:30 p.m. Thursday with Robinson. High School Robinson, in contrast to GCHS North, has one holiday tournament under its belt, whereas North is a rookie. Another factor is the records of both schools. North has three victories to date and the Robinson Maroons are winless in six games.

Last year the Maroons opened the tourney with an 84-51 victory over Gillespie, then were eliminated in the second round by the eventual champion, Lincoln, 73-57.

Tallest of Robinson's returning players is 6-6 Keith Watts. On the front line with Watts if 6-3 Dave Lachenmayr and 6-2 Rick Wilson. Wilson has been averaging 21 points a game. Neil Trotter and Brad Siler have been playing as guards. Trotter has fired an average of 15 points per game from the outside and Lachenmayr is the third double-figure scorer in the lineup.

The North Steelers closely match those figures with the shooting of Dave Schefke and Don Lloyd. Schefke has a game high of 27 points and Lloyd 20.

With Lloyd sidelined due to a knee injury, the Steeler lineup will more than likely include Schefke at center, Cary Simons and Mike Waldo at forward spots and Gene Logos and Daryl Page as guards.

An injury to star player Greg Ahart may have hurt the Edwardsville Tigers' chances capturing their own tournament. The host school has not been the overall victor since capturing the first classic in 1968.

The Tigers' 6-2 star senior was injured a week ago, which left the Edwardsville team with 6-0 Gammit. He has an 18 point game average and 11 rebounds a game.

Edwardsville is matched with Lincoln at 8 p.m. Thursday, the team the Tigers defeated to capture the first holiday tournament.

Glenbard East and Bethalto kick off the first round action at 9 a.m. and Madison and Roxana are paired at 10:30 a.m. They are followed by East St. Louis against Jerseyville at 1 p.m., Peoria Woodruff vs. Highland,

2:30 p.m.; Elk Grove vs. Triad, 4 p.m.; Hillsboro vs. Wood River, 6:30 p.m., and the 9:30 p.m. game between GCHS North and Robinson.

Games the second day will be alternated, beginning at 9 a.m., between the losers' and the winners' brackets. Saturday, the 9 a.m. session will be consolation bracket semifinalists playing. That afternoon, the first two games will be championship semifinals.

The last four games of the tournament will decide first and third place in the consolation bracket and first and third place in the winners' bracket.

The bid was the lowest of five accepted for consideration by the Finance Committee. A bid of Grand-

Spaulding, a Chicago Dodge dealer, described as $5,760, was rejected because it was received a day late.

Board Member Rodger Elble unsuccessfully urged rejection of the bids and acceptance of their Grand Spaulding price. He said his special delivery letter was postmarked before the other bids were opened. It was received more than 15 hours after a 3:30 p.m. Thursday deadline.

Edward Voumard of the Finance Committee said a plus-factor in the low bid is that the money will stimulate the economy of Madison County. Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said acceptance of a late proposal would have been criticized.

Mrs. Sybil Belliss told the board Buckman during the hour charged the county $8,473 for overhauls and valve jobs on 11 squad cars being traded in. She said the work was

35 new cars for sheriff's staff

The Madison County Board last week awarded a contract for purchase of a fleet of 35 new police cars for the sheriff's office to Bo Buckman Ford, Inc., of Collinsville, on its bid of $103,775 plus 32 auto trade-ins.

The bid was the lowest of five accepted for consideration by the Finance Committee. A bid of Grand-

Spaulding, a Chicago Dodge dealer, described as $5,760, was rejected because it was received a day late.

Board Member Rodger Elble unsuccessfully urged rejection of the bids and acceptance of their Grand Spaulding price. He said his special delivery letter was postmarked before the other bids were opened. It was received more than 15 hours after a 3:30 p.m. Thursday deadline.

Edward Voumard of the Finance Committee said a plus-factor in the low bid is that the money will stimulate the economy of Madison County. Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said acceptance of a late proposal would have been criticized.

Mrs. Sybil Belliss told the board Buckman during the hour charged the county $8,473 for overhauls and valve jobs on 11 squad cars being traded in. She said the work was done between Dec. 21, 1972, and March 12, 1973, and that the agency had been the successful bidder Dec. 20, 1972, on 13 new cars delivered in March 1973. She said the seller of cars to the county apparently is obtaining repair assignments automatically without bids on repair work from other garages.

"There's a certain conflict of interest," she contended, if the bidder performs any needed repair work on vehicles about to be traded in to him but while they are still in service awaiting new car deliveries.

In other business, the board transferred $12,600 to its per diem account, raising it from $146,100 to $158,600 to finance $40 a day pay for attending board or committee meetings.

A total of $26,000 was transferred from highway construction to road maintenance. Mileage paid to county employees was raised from 10 to 14 cents, and the County Board of Review was granted a 30-day extension to complete 1973 assessments for the county.

HOME BURGLARIZED
Entry to the home of Mary Hitterman, 2628 State St., was gained after the glass in the front door was broken. It was reported at 8:30 p.m. Sunday. An inventory was to be taken to determine what was taken.

Mat Warriors win decisively

What Warrior Coach William Schmitt thought might be a close meet turned into a lopsided score as the host GCHS South wrestlers won 44-9 over strong Ritenour of Missouri on Saturday.

South captured 10 of the 12 bouts, three by falls. Four of five unbeaten Warriors won over their foes.

Continuing unbeaten was Woody Halbrook, who pinned his opponent in 1:41 to capture his eighth straight win in the 96-pound class. Pat MacMillan (112), a 13-3 superior decision; John Niebur (126), a 13-2 superior decision; and Don Heath (132), 4-0.

Previously defeated John Avedisian (185) lost 2-0 to defending Missouri state champion Mark Poelker.

"It wasn't a defeat," Schmitt commented. "Any time a wrestler can avoid being pinned by someone like Poelker, it's almost a victory."

"Poelker was our holiday meet winner last year as a 167-pounder."

Other varsity Warriors who won were: 105 pounds, Steve Garland, 35; 119, Kevin Page, 16-1; 138, Dan Heath, 6-2; 145, Dave Rushing, 15-3; 156, Ken Nolen, 1-34; and 167 — Brian Wilson, 15-0.

Heavyweight Jerry Patterson lost in 1:27.

Jayvees won 57-6 and the sophomore matmen posted a 48-6 victory over Ritenour.

Junior varsity winners were: 98 pounds, Lindy McDaniel, 1-57; 119, Ed Fetter, 3-31; 126, Glenn More, 32; 132, Leon Scroggins, 5-55; 138, Ken Brooks, 9-7; 185, Doug Hartman, 1-50; and Heavyweight Mark Naglich, a freshman, 3-55.

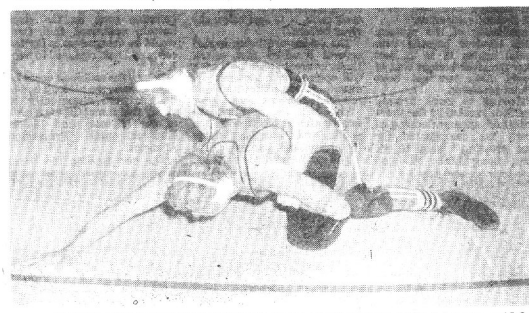

Three freshmen posted victories at the sophomore level, 112 pounds, John Phillips, 7-6; 126, Dave Gains, 9-2; and Jim Carmody, 132, undefeated in six matches, a pin in 1:34.

Sophomore Ed Fetter posted the other victory for the lower classmen, a fall in 3:45 at 119 pounds.

The Warriors will carry their 8-0 season record into the Granite City holiday tournament, which begins Thursday, as a pre-tourney favorite.

ENROUTE TO VICTORY by a superior decision is John Niebur (top wrestler) Saturday over Ritenour's Aaron Nauman. Niebur won the bout 13-2 to remain undefeated this season. (Press-Record Photo)

Defending champion Venice cage team hopes to repeat

The top-seeded Venice Red Devils are eyeing a possible sixth Columbia-Freeburg holiday cage title at Columbia Wednesday when they meet Mulberry Grove at 10:30 a.m. in the first round.

Venice, now 2-2, has won the championship in five of the past seven years, having failed to do so only in 1969 and 1971.

The Devils captured the title last year, enroute to a third-place finish in the state meet, with a 74-54 win over the Waterloo Bulldogs. Venice had downed Sandoval 81-51 and Steeleville 74-59 to advance against Waterloo.

The 1972 Devils were undefeated going into the tournament, they now are 2-2.

What hasn't changed since last year is the sharp shooting of senior Ron Henry. He has been scoring an average of 28 points a game.

Adde the scoring of J.B. Harmon and Tony Sifton, the other returning members, and Venice is a team to be respected by the other entries in the four-day tournament. On the court with them will be sophomore Reggie Gardner and Mike Henry.

Venice coach Richard Essington does not expect the season record to have an effect on the squad. "This is a team which holds up well under pressure," he said. "A loss here or there tends to give it that much more drive."

In this year's meet, which begins at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Venice has been seeded first, Lebanon second, Central (Averyton-Breese) third and Valmeyer fourth.

First-round pairings include Brooklyn vs. Staunton at 9 a.m.; Freeburg vs. Sandoval, 1 p.m.; Central vs. Red Bud, 2:30 p.m.; Steeleville vs. Pacific, 5 p.m.; Lebanon vs. Christopher, 6:30 p.m.; Columbia vs. Gibault, 8 p.m.; and Valmeyer vs. New Athens at 9:30 p.m.

If it wins Wednesday, Venice will play next at 5 p.m. Thursday; if it loses Wednesday, it will play next at 9 a.m. Thursday.

Rusick in Miami event

William Rusick, 16, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Rusick, 2735 Michigan Ave., was in Miami, Florida today to participate in the annual Orange Bowl Invitational Tennis Tournament.

Rusick, a junior at Granite City High School South, enters the tournament with very impressive credentials. He currently is fifth in point standings in the Missouri Valley Tennis Association, was a recent runner-up in the St. Louis district men's single quarterfinals, champion of the Decatur Singles Tournament and has won numerous Granite City men's tournament titles.

The local youth began his tennis career with the Granite City Park District tennis program.

Cancel games

The Belleville area YMCA Flag Football championship playoffs, which had been scheduled to be played Saturday, had to be postponed because of inclement weather conditions.

Two local squads, Victory Tavern and Crofton Home, will compete with other area teams at Belleville's Southside Park when the games are rescheduled.

7-4 ice loss

Positions in the MacClair Ice Hockey Association point standings changed drastically Friday and Saturday when Granite City lost to Wood River, 7-4. Alton retained its undefeated status with a 4-1 victory over Assumption, and the Belleville squad upset Collinsville 6-4, all at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

Granite City fell into a third place tie with Wood River when the local squad failed to maintain its 9-2 halftime lead. Wood River scored twice in the first period before Kevin Gray scored twice to tie the game. Gray scored again late in the second quarter.

The local team, playing without its regular goalie, failed to contain the striking power of Wood River as the visitors connected with the puck five times in the second half.

Mark Kulp scored all four goals to keep his Alton team in the No. 1 spot with a 4-1 victory over Assumption. Collinsville and Belleville are now tied in last place after the latter squad posted its first win of the season, over Collinsville.

The MacClair team records are: Alton 6-0; Assumption 4-2; Granite City 3-3; Wood River 3-3; Collinsville 1-5; and Belleville 1-5.

New year will bring new laws

New Year's Day will usher in several new laws passed by the General Assembly. And most pertain to the Illinois Vehicle Code.

The one receiving most publicity lately is the right turn on red after stop. On Jan. 1, Illinois joins 19 other states permitting the practice. Twenty others allow right turns against red lights only at certain posted intersections, which is the rule in Illinois until Jan. 1.

Another amendment to the Code effective the first of 1974 gives the Secretary of State an option to ask for a photograph to accompany drivers license applications. This is not mandatory at this time; it merely gives the secretary the right to do so.

The price of duplicate registration plates goes up after Jan. 1. Single registration plates will increase from $2 to $4 while a pair will cost $6 rather than $4.

The law also standardizes the costs of duplicate plates, regardless of the type of vehicle.

Motor carriers of property will be affected by another amendment to the Code. Henceforth, failure to pay any franchise tax, license fee or penalty required under the Business Corporation Act becomes grounds for revocation of a certificate or license.

Also affecting the motor carrier is a provision which extends the power of the Secretary of State's investigators to include investigation of violations of the Motor Carrier of Property Law by persons who operate as a motor carrier of property without a valid certificate or permit.

Emergency reflectors meeting federal standards must be used by second division motor vehicles or trailers, as outlined in another Code amendment. The bill also allows substitution of two portable emergency reflectors in place of two red cloth flags.

A definition of "two trucks" is the essence of House Bill 62, effective Jan. 1. The list of regulations includes that a sign be printed on each side of the truck with letters at least two inches high—and in a color that contrasts to the background—stating the name, address and phone number of the owner or operator of the tow truck.

It also requires every tow truck to be equipped with at least one broom and shovel and at least one 18-inch-high trash can, carrying at least one dry chemical or carbon dioxide fire extinguisher as outlined in the law.

And the operator must post an indemnity bond or have an insurance policy which will indemnify or insure the tow truck operator for his liability for loss or damage to any disabled vehicle which he tows or stores.

The law instructs the tow truck owner or operator to remove all glass and debris deposited on the streets by the disabled vehicle being serviced and to spread dirt or sand on the street or highway where any oil or grease has been deposited.

City tags issued by any city, village or incorporated town in which the owner resides need not be displayed if the vehicle is displaying the plate or tax or license number issued by the place where the vehicle is based.

House Bill 874 provides that when a certificate of title is made out to a husband and wife with the marital status shown on the certificate, it shall be presumed that the title is held as tenants with right of survivorship.

Another amendment makes it unlawful to drive any motor vehicle when snow or ice on the windshield or rear view mirror obscures or obscures the driver's clear view of the highway.

Instances in which authorized vehicles may use oscillating, rotating or flashing lights are outlined in House Bill 1571. Such lights may only be used by authorized vehicles, but a manufacturer may temporarily mount and demonstrate them.

In 1974, high schools operating passenger cars for a high school driver training program may operate or move them on the highway without registering each car. However, they must display the required special plates issued to the school.

Owners of a truck with mounted camper body must attach the registration plates to the rear of the body after Jan. 1. A truck that can be converted to a camper may be registered as a truck, and the camper body registered separately upon payment of an additional $8. Too, a truck so converted may operate as a recreational vehicle, otherwise, it may be operated only as a truck.

Definitions of bumper and suspension systems, and multipurpose passenger vehicles—as well as regulations for vehicles transporting "Radioactive Yellow-III"—labeled packages—are also included in the new laws.

NEW SUPER CABLE, part of a system which eventually will carry 108,000 simultaneous conversations between the St. Louis area and Pittsburgh, is lowered into the Mississippi River immediately south of here. Keeping a watchful eye on the progress of the cable are members of an installation crew from AT&T Long Lines.

World's highest capacity phone cable is being installed here

Construction of the world's highest-capacity telephone cable transmission system has moved closer to completion. Work crews have begun installation of cables across the Mississippi River south of St. Louis.

Rich said the 784-mile cable system is being installed by AT&T Long Lines, which provides the interstate and overseas telephone network for Southwestern Bell and other Bell System companies.

Installation of the system, which involves burying twin coaxial cables 15 to 22 feet below the river bottom east of Pevely, Mo., has not been without problems.

"Having to work around conditions created by the worst spring and summer flooding on record has complicated the river crossing," said G. G. Dorr, Long Lines division operations manager in St. Louis. "The Long Lines crews working aboard the barges are having to face constantly changing volumes and velocities of water current in the channel where the cable is being placed," he explained.

"This makes it difficult to bury the cables in a straight line and to ensure that each cable is 15 feet below the river bottom."

The cables are being buried several hundred feet apart. Under normal conditions, each will operate at half capacity—about 54,000 simultaneous telephone conversations.

"This will assure minimum interruption of service to the public should something impair the operation of one cable. Full service would be rerouted to the remaining cable until repairs could be made on the damaged cable."

The cables—each four and a half inches thick, including a half-inch of steel wrapping for protection—are being installed using a hydraulically-operated reel on the cable-laying barge.

Before beginning the installation, Long Lines ran pollution tests on the river bottom sediment that first would be dredged up to lay the cable and then replaced by bury it.

Before the sediment could be used to cover the cable, it had to be analyzed chemically to verify that it met the standards of the Missouri and Illinois Environmental Protection Agencies.

The new facility, the latest high-capacity long haul carrier telephone system developed by Bell Laboratories, begins at Lilleyville, Pa., and ends at the Long Lines building north of Hillsboro, Mo. Plans have been made to eventually have the L-5 cross the nation to Corona, Calif.

Orthodontics instruction

The School of Dental Medicine of SIUE will offer a series of two-day short courses in orthodontics for the general practitioner, beginning in January.

Dr. Richard E. Coy, director of the SIUE Center for Professional Advancement, said the four-part series is designed "to further advance the theoretical and technical appreciation of orthodontics of all members of the dental profession."

The courses are: "Orthodontics for The General Practitioner," Jan. 6-7; "Cephalometrics in Clinical Practice," March 23; "Clinical Orthodontics: Diagnosis and Treatment," March 24-25; "Laboratory Orientation in Orthodontic Techniques," June 3-6.

Dr. Coy suggests the courses be taken in sequence "in order to receive the maximum benefit from the series." All four courses need not be completed in one year but may be spread over several academic years; participants must have completed the first three courses before they will be eligible for the final laboratory course.

Courses will be conducted at the Alton center. Sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

Dinner party sparks season for BPW Club

Santa and Mrs. Claus figures, garbed in red velvet and white fur, centered the officers' table at the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club's annual Christmas dinner party last week.

A 6:30 p.m. buffet dinner was served to about 65 members and guests at the Granite City Army Installation's Officers Club. Miniature Santa, Claus figurines also decorated the head table, which was covered with a white cloth, edged with white Christmas stockings, bells and boots. Each guest table held a large Santa boot, and favors were dainty white baskets containing holly berries.

Mrs. Verna Lengyel, who was in charge of decorations, arranged a small Christmas tree with twinkling lights on a tinsel bordered table to display gift packages, later exchanged by the members.

A lighted Santa Claus centered a second table on which items being sold to support the club's charitable projects were arranged. Beneath the table, in large boxes the members placed canned goods for delivery to the Salvation Army as a special donation.

Garlands in festive colors and wreaths of poinsettia and pine cones decorated the walls and light fixtures, and a string of Christmas bells was suspended above the room entranceway. Mrs. Lillie Marzluft, BPW president, welcomed the group and the club collect was read by Ruth Canner. Yuletide selections were sung and solo numbers were presented by Mrs. Valerie Stevens and Mrs. Shirley Adams.

Games were played under the direction of Mrs. Ann Graklanoff and Mrs. Martha Svezia and prizes were awarded to those excelling. Gifts were exchanged with Mrs. Pauline Weir supervising the presentations.

Mrs. Marzluft announced an executive board meeting at 7 p.m. Jan. 2 at the East Side Lodge and Sanitary Board of office on Madison Avenue, a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 16 at Charlie's Restaurant, with Mrs. Stevens, Young Career Woman chairman, arranging the program.

Mrs. Marian Avedisian reported many BPW members volunteered to serve as bellringers to aid the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights drive.

Serving on the Christmas party committee, in addition to those named, were Lorene Sadrakula, co-chairman; and Mesdames Mary Batson, Geraldine Wagner, Genevieve Grady, Gertrude Ashford, Rebecca Slate, Catherine Michel, Helen Law and Marie Szymek.

Hurt-Klobe wedding at St. Margaret Mary's

Christmas floral arrangements of red and white flowers with garlands of greenery and lighted tapers decorated St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church for the wedding on Dec. 14 of Miss Constance M. Klobe, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Klobe, 2915 Sunset Drive, and Army Private First Class Steven K. Hurt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Hurt, 2408 St. Clair Ave.

Sister Marilyn Therese presided at the organ as Mrs. Pat Dickerson sang "The First Time I Ever Saw Your Face." The theme from Romeo and Juliet, "Ave Maria" and "Immaculate Mary."

The Rev. Edward Groesch performed the nuptial ceremony at 6:30 in the evening. Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a polyester organza bridal gown. The fitted bodice had a stand-up ruffle edged the V-neckline and long full bishop sleeves.

The bouffant skirt, created with tiers of ruffles and enhanced with scalloped tulle, extended into a long cathedral length train. She wore a Juliet cap of lace etched with seed pearls to hold in place an elbow length veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, Christmas pine, interspersed with tiny silver and gold balls, and long satin streamers.

Bridal attendants Karen Lattimore, Nancy Russell, Toni Culberts, Sherry and Shelley Hurt, sisters of the groom, were gowned in identical full length dresses.

They were fashioned in Empire style of burgandy and pink velvet, featuring chiffon puffed sleeves and a contrasting trim on the bodices. Each girl wore a pink bonnet to secure a matching melody length veil. Their bouquets were cascades of pink carnations intermingled with Christmas pines and silver and gold streamers.

The groom chose Charles Pomeroy as his best man. Mike Klobe, a brother of the bride, Wayne Laurentius, Ronald Hurt, a cousin of the groom, Monte Lyons, Rick Klobe, and Ronald and Donald Laurentius, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Jennifer and Mark Keith, cousins of the groom, were the flower girl and ringbearer. She wore a white floor length frock identical to the bride gown. Mrs. Klobe chose a rose colored formal length dress complemented with matching accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Hurt, wore a multi-colored print in pink tones with pink accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

Mrs. Diane Klobe, a sister-in-law of the bride, registered the guests at a reception held at Croatan Home in Madison following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurt, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner at Ponderosa Steak House.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride was employed at First National Bank in St. Louis.

Her husband presently is stationed at Fort Carson, Colo., with the U.S. Army. They will reside in Colorado Springs, Colo., following a wedding trip.

Ask U. S. to ease steel price curbs

Both steel producers and steel users have informed the U. S. Cost of Living Council that steel price restrictions must be eased or severe steel shortages will be forthcoming.

Shortages already have appeared in some product lines where profitability is absent or small, the council was told during hearings in Washington late last week.

Items now in short supply include concrete reinforcing bars and pipe and casing for oil production. Three of five producers of stainless-steel blades, used in electrical power generators, have discontinued production in the last half-year because of low profits on the items.

The steel producers cited higher profits in selling steel abroad than in the United States as one reason controls should be reduced.

Several companies said they would have to remain solvent if the controls were not lifted.

In addition to a 2.4 per cent increase in the next 12 to 18 months.

Plans for expanding many companies to increase production have been postponed due to a lack of profit incentive, the council was told.

The companies cited a 108 per cent increase in the price of scrap steel and increases in the costs of fuel oil and zinc as major reasons for their cost crunches.

Laclede Steel Co. executives estimated that if prices are not increased, the company will lose about $300,000 in January, a half-million dollars in February and possibly more than $1 million on March.

Rather than lose the money, Paul B. Akin, the company's president said, Laclede Steel will put every pound of metal possible into foreign markets where higher profits are available.

Alternative heating Food, energy worry requires caution farmers in Illinois

While usual sources of heating fuel are in short supply, many Illinois families are resorting to fuel supplements or substitutes they aren't familiar with.

Ordie Hogsett, University of Illinois Extension safety specialist, says lack of knowledge and experience concerning installation and operation of stoves and heaters burning coal, wood or kerosene may bring disaster to one's home.

Here are some guidelines offered by Hogsett:

—Follow local regulations pertaining to portable heaters. Where they are allowed, install and use them according to manufacturer's instructions. If the original directions are missing—as with secondhand or seldom-used devices—get professional guidance from your local fire department or building inspector's office.

—Have major and permanent installations made by a licensed heating contractor and checked by enforcement authorities. Be sure chimneys and chimney connectors are tight and clean. Dispose of ashes safely in lightly-covered metal containers, never in boxes or bags.

—Don't buy or use a portable heater that wobbles and might tip over. With stoves burning solid fuel—coal or wood—it's essential to learn how to start, fuel and tend the fire. Be sure you understand how to operate and use dampers properly. Avoid pouring combustible liquids into an already heated stove to get a quick start or to "freshen" the fire.

—Place portable heaters away from stairwells and doorways where they could block escape in case of fire. Keep all heaters away from flammable materials, such as draperies, upholstered furniture, towels, bedding and clothing. Keep people well away from heaters, especially children and anyone wearing floor-length clothing or long, loose sleeves.

—Be sure your home is ventilated well enough to assure a continuous supply of fresh air.

If you plan to use a portable charcoal burner intended for outdoor cooking—such as a barbecue grill or hibachi—place it in the fireplace where the chimney will draw up the carbon monoxide produced by the burning charcoal. A build-up of this gas in a room could cause death by asphyxiation.

Hogsett points out that many building codes prohibit use of room heaters and carefully regulate other heating devices. These codes have been developed for protection of the public, he says, adding, "Don't risk your life and lives of your family by violating common sense or official regulations while trying to ward off the cold."

Appropriations by state show big increase

Comptroller George W. Lindberg's latest fiscal report shows that total appropriations for fiscal 1974 now exceed the governor's initial recommendation by $67 million.

Lindberg called attention to nearly $219 million in new appropriation bills which have become law following the General Assembly's special session.

This brings the total of fiscal 1974 appropriations to $7,207,000,000 for all funds. In his budget recommendation, the Governor asked for total appropriations of $7,027,000,000.

The appropriations additions by the special session are attributed mainly to the agreement to form a regional transit authority, Lindberg said.

This included a mass transit operating subsidy of $35.2 million, an added $39.1 million in downstate supplemental freeway construction and a $40 million lump sum appropriation for highway construction.

Regarding the state's economic condition, Lindberg said the forecast of an economic slowdown for the second half of fiscal 1974 could be accentuated by the current energy crisis.

If the predicted slowdown occurs, the state's revenue growth will be retarded in the latter half of fiscal 1974 and into fiscal 1975, Lindberg said. Revenue sources most likely to be affected are the sales tax, the corporate income tax, the motor fuel tax and motor vehicle registration, he said.

The comptroller also summarized the new financial base for the RTA in his report.

'Officer Friendly' program praised

Judging by the letters received by Mayor Paul Schuler from local school administrators and students, the "Officer Friendly" program of the Granite City police department is working well.

Warren D. Collins, principal of Logan School, wrote to the mayor in regard to the program: "We have watched the attitude of our students change from a cold tolerance of police to a warm and friendly acceptance."

"The children are coming to view all police officers as 'men who are their friends and are willing and able to help them. We believe that public relations through the Officer Friendly program is one of the finest services that the city government provides to the schools."

"Our responsibility of teaching good citizenship is made much easier by this program and by all of the fine police officers in Granite City."

Young Chris Moser, a Frohardt student, wrote Mayor Schuler: "I enjoyed the magic show Officer Koberna and Officer Apperson showed us. I think you should let them go on showing this show to school children, because little children that are scared of policemen might have a chance to start liking them."

This is the third year the local department has had the "Officer Friendly" program.

Different programs are geared to the different age groups. Kindergarten children learn from "Officer Friendly" how to cross a street safely and to beware of strangers; first and second-graders learn bike safety; third through fifth-graders again have a program on strangers and safety and sixth-graders learn the effects of crime such as vandalism, breaking windows, and stealing can have on the person committing the act, their parents and friends.

Children, teachers and administrators of the Granite City public and parochial schools have enjoyed a magic show presented by the Community Relations division of the Granite City Police Department during the past several weeks.

"Officer Friendly," better known as Roy Koberna and Officer J. W. Apperson who is a talented magician, performed to over 6,300 grade school children.

The purpose of the shows is to let the kindergarten through sixth graders know that policemen are really their friend.

Ideas to save money operating your electric range

These tips from appliance experts help conserve energy, too!

- 1. Open the oven door only when necessary.
Avoid the temptation to keep opening the oven door. You lose up to 20% of the heat every time you do.
- 2. Use the right burner.
With small pans, cook on the smaller burners. Using a large burner wastes energy unnecessarily.
- 3. Use pans with flat bottoms.
Pans with flat bottoms fit the burner surface and are more efficient than those with curved bottoms.
- 4. Plan your baking.
Pre-heating the oven and baking only one dish or heating a few rolls is wasteful. With a little planning, you can cook an entire meal in the oven.
- 5. Cook to directions.
Long keep-warm periods cheat you of flavor as well as money. Whether you use fresh or frozen vegetables, the flavor and nutritional value is better when they're cooked to directions.
- 6. Reduce heat as soon as practical.
When water is boiling, medium heat will keep it boiling. Use pans with tight-fitting lids to conserve heat.

Providing energy is our business. Using it wisely is everybody's business.

WE'VE MOVED.
Listen.

It's the talk of the Quad Cities. WGN's popular Party Line program is an everyday feature now, with Granite City Steel sponsoring the first hour from 3 to 4 p.m.
Party Line is a rapid, steady stream of what's happening: Regular reports from City Hall, the Police Department, the high schools, the hospital, the county court house and, of course, the steel mill. Plus local and national news, sports and markets, an occasional special guest, and audience jacksots. If that's not enough, in between there's a chance for you — the listener — to call and say whatever's on your mind.
Party Line, the perfect way to end the afternoon — informed. A very public service of Granite City Steel. Weekdays 3 to 4 p.m. on WGN/AM, 920 on the dial.

Smith sales up but cutback on frames

Earnings of A. O. Smith Corp. in 1973 will be up about 50 per cent over the depressed levels of 1972, while sales are expected to increase approximately 25 per cent over last year, L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, announced last week.
Smith said earnings will be in the range of $14,500,000 to $15,250,000, or $2.95 to $3.10 per share, compared with $9,944,000, or $2.02 per share, a year ago. A. O. Smith's best year was 1969 when it earned $3 per share.
Sales are expected to reach $615,000,000, compared with $492,777,000 in 1972.
In the fourth quarter, A. O. Smith expects to earn between $2,750,000 and $3,500,000, or from 57 to 72 cents per share, compared with $2,062,000, or 42 cents per share last year. Sales in the fourth quarter should be about $154,000,000, compared with $131,995,000 in 1972.
One of the main reasons Smith's operating units will report sales increases in 1973 compared with 1972. Profits in most of the operating units are also expected to be ahead.
The Automotive Division will report record sales and earnings for the year, even though margins were hurt by price controls and a lack of capacity. Volume remained exceptionally strong all through the year, although in December passenger car frame production was cut back to conform to plant closings by General Motors, the division's largest customer.

New computer system at bank

Granite City Trust and Savings Bank has completed installation of an IBM Systems 3 Model 190 Computer, improving the efficiency of bank operations.
Donald A. Karandjeff, president, said that the decision to install the computer was based on the ability Granite City Trust now has to provide its customers with more comprehensive banking services.

18-year-olds to mix drinks

The Illinois Liquor Control Commission announced Friday it will permit persons 18, 19 and 20 years of age to work, mix and serve drinks in licensed liquor establishments in the state.
Commission Chairman Michael E. Berz said, "Many cities have asked the state commission for guidance since enactment of the 18-year-old drinking law. It would be unfair and illegal to deny equal employment opportunities to the between the ages of 18 and 21."

Supplement public aid

Gov. Dan Walker on Thursday said a bill to supplement welfare state funds the public aid payments to aged, blind and disabled recipients.
Walker said that without the supplements, federal payments to some recipients who go on the rolls after Jan. 1 would have been lower than the current levels.

Deny permission to burn houses

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors was informed at its meeting Saturday that the Madison County Environmental Control Department has denied permission for the township to burn old houses at Route 111 and 162.

The information came in a letter from Paul Hawkins, county environmental control official, who said the quantity of materials in the houses and the tar paper contents would produce too much air pollution. He said an opinion could be obtained from the state Environmental Protection Agency office in Collinsville if the township wished.

The township was informed that the township has filed a complaint against Sam Johnson for allegedly hauling garbage, refuse and other materials in an open truck through the township. An ordinance requires all garbage trucks to be closed.
